A Dedication

The times of today are superceded by tomoro and tomoro can be a bewildering place, filled with whirling words of english and the only anchors are coke and chevy.
15th street is the foreground with Los Angeles a smoggy background image, huge, sprawling the communication is english, flowing over the half-slum's existence the little mexican kids are stranded on the Spanish rocks, unable to delve into the hurly-burly of life and their isolation can only grow. . .
in tomoro

tomoro is a challenge like a virgin planet
its reality untouched, the way is unknown, the path must be found.
for the mexican kids, Br. McTigue is the guide and the outstretched hand.
He holds "a thing precious" in our maze of speed and technology -- English.
And words like station and liberty and blue become knowns
calming whirlpools books become treasures and movies become art and Madison Ave. becomes blatant.

Br. McTigue is teaching these kids to swim in the rip-currents of tomoro's American society.
In their behalf,
we thank him.

Administration

The administration of Loyola High School includes the rector, Fr. Robert L. St. Clair, S.J., the principal, Fr. Edwin J. McDermott, S.J., the vice-principal, Fr. John Geiszel, S.J., plus several assistants and secretaries.

1. Although our rector, Fr. St. Clair, S.J., is rarely seen by the students, his activities and decisions have a pronounced effect on their school life. His sincere and wise leadership has made Loyola a model among Jesuit high schools. We owe him a debt of gratitude.

2. The man who directs the student body is the principal, Fr. McDermott, S.J. He has widened the academic scope of the school, introducing courses in biology and the fine arts. His expertise in high school direction has gained our school one of the top academic positions in the state. In recognition of his ability Fr. McDermott, S.J., has been named Chairman of the Secondary Schools Commission of the Jesuit Educational Association.

3. Fr. John Geiszel, S.J., is responsible for forming the character of the Cubs. He is well known and respected for his skill in curbing the wayward vagrancies of those who would abbreviate their academic life, or altogether eliminate it. He also holds the difficult office of encouraging in each student a mature regard for the property and person of others.

Leonard, S.J., serves as the assistant to the Principal. 6. Mrs. Mitsch is secretary to the Principal. 7. Mrs. Greeves is here for her second year as librarian. 8. And again as secretary to the vice-principal, is Mrs. Pollock. (This page) 1. Mrs. Sauer is Father Rector's secretary. 2. Miss Viray is our receptionist. 3. Mr. Nash is assistant bookkeeper. 4. Mrs. Gaffney is our secretary to the treasurer. Our brothers are: 5. Bro. McDermott, S.J., 6. Bro. McTigue, S.J., 7. Bro. Desjardins, S.J. and 8. Bro. Sessing, S.J.

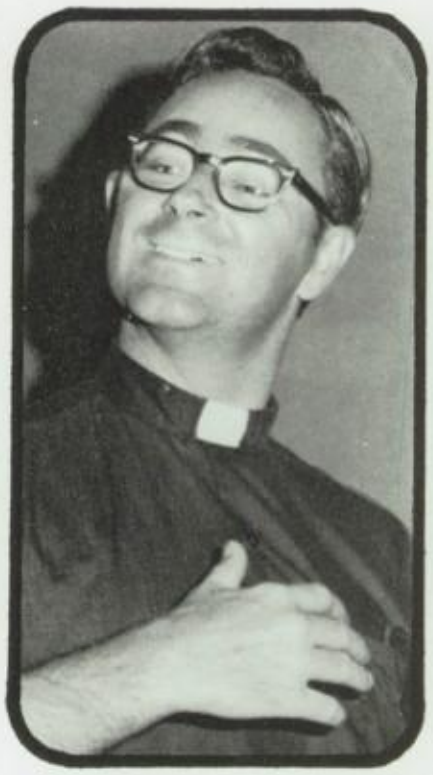
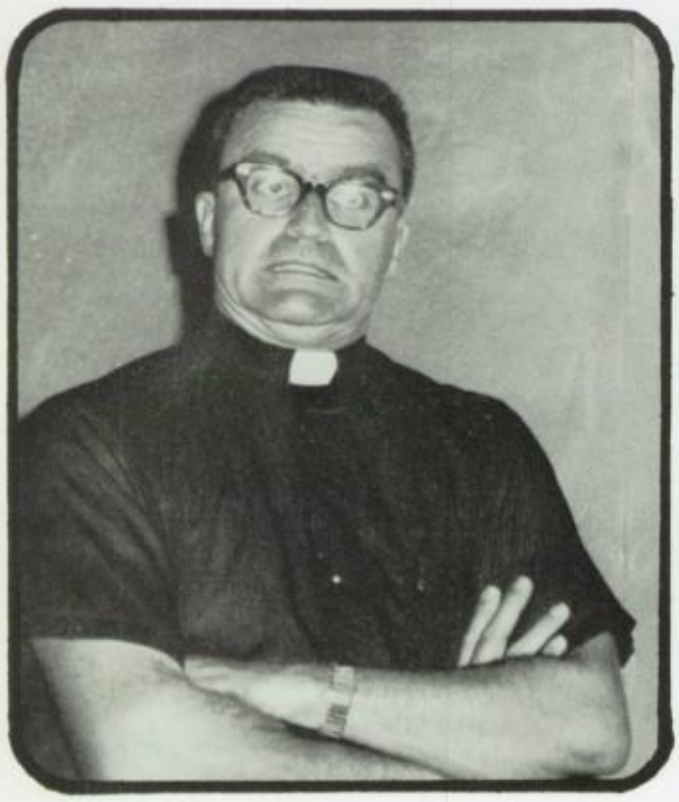
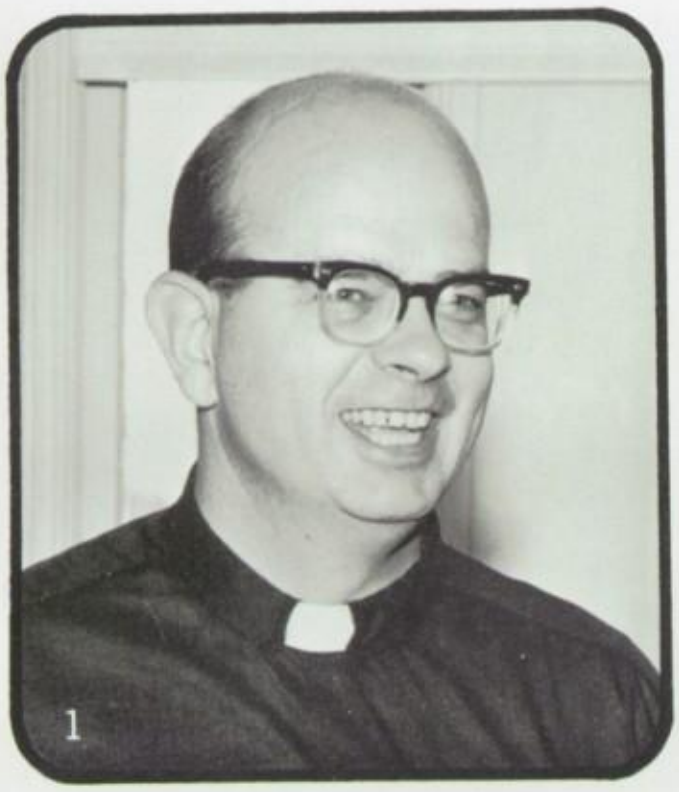
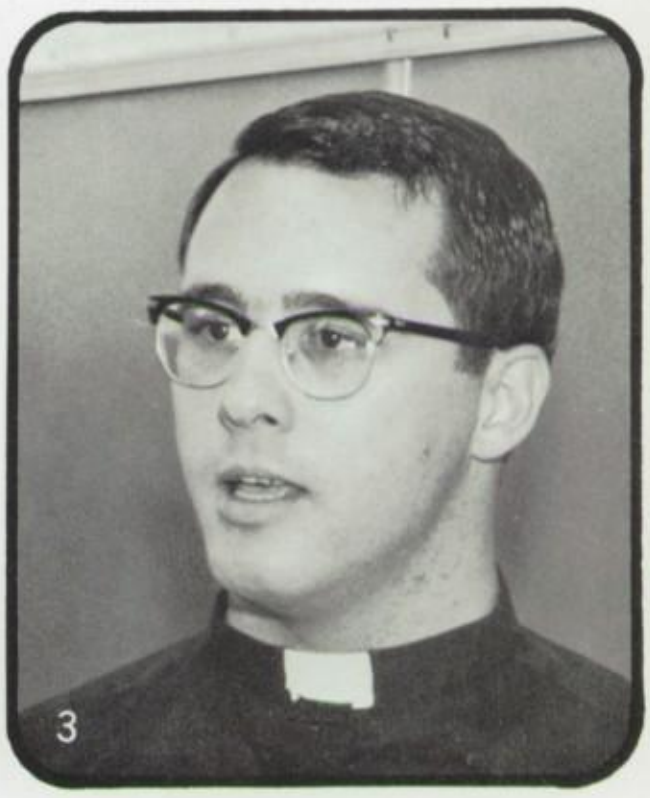
Teachers

These vellums of papyrus are laid aside to honor the Loyola faculty. It is because of the student body's desire to honor these esteemed leaders of the educational community, that we have gathered together their amalgamated portraits to present to the world at large. In keeping with their dignity, it has been deemed appropriate only to present them against a staid and dignified Victorian background, to contrast them with the frivolities of the inconsequentials which abound in today's seas of actual ignorance.









1. For the first time Loyola is offering to its seniors a course in art appreciation taught by Father Arrowsmith, S.J. 2. Teaching senior English again this year is Mr. Barnett. 3. Mr. Bini, S.J., is teaching the freshmen both English and History and is helping with the Speech Team. 4. The head of our chemistry department this year is Mr. Buschelman. 5. And teaching the juniors both Math and Religion is Father Colosimo, S.J.

1. Mr. Comiskey, S.J., new this year at Loyola, is teaching Civics and Sociology. 2. Mr. Conkey teaches both Geometry and Civics. 3. Father Conneally, S.J., is teaching American history to the sophomores. 4. Teaching English, Speech, and Drama this year is Mr. Cser, who also directs our dramatic endeavors. 5. And Father Duggan, S.J., is once again teaching sophomore Religion.

Card Stunt Chairman
Charlie Glass

Charged with boosting of school spirit in all phases of student life, the Pep Club organized the best rallies in years, and, aided by Garth Casper, produced the wildest signs and gimmicks seen at Loyola in many seasons. The high point of its activities was the famous card stunts of Charlie Glass, and some original stunts by the spirited cheering section.

The Loyalist is one of the most active, well-organized activities on campus. Under the editorship of Paul Soukup and the moderation of Mr. Lyndon Farwell, S.J., Loyola's newspaper has gained national recognition and praise. Some of the many awards, both for individual excellence and for the quality of the paper as a whole, can be seen in the background of the picture (left).

Besides the usual newspaper the Loyalist also offers a Coke machine, a UPI teletype, and a genuine pay phone.

Dances

The Dance Committee, through its valiant efforts, has filled Loyola dances with flavor and atmosphere, starting with the first mixer (Don't just stand there MIX!) all the way through to the Senior Prom at the Bel-Air Bay Club, which featured music by the Sandals.

Dramatics

The Drama Club, under faculty director Mr. Cser and student dictator Tony Arn, put on The Man Who Came to Dinner and the hit musical South Pacific. The Man Who Came to Dinner featured superb acting and flawless sets, and played to a house of 1500 during its three night run.

South Pacific is currently in rehearsal and is expected to be a complete musical success. It will star John Sheller, Peggy Woodard, Pat Ortner, and Dan Terheggan.

Many thanks are due to the set, lighting, and make-up crews who, though not achieving much recognition, are still essential to the putting on of fine theatrical works.

John Sheller, stage manager for The Man Who Came to Dinner, helped produce the finest sets ever in Loyola drama.

The Man Who Came To Dinner

Loyola's first production this year was George S. Kaufmann and Moss Hart's 1930's comedy, The Man Who Came to Dinner. The sparkling cast, cutting and clowning deftly on John Sheller's excellent sets, was headed by Mike Tramontin as Sheridan Whiteside. This choleric radio celebrity, trapped in a middle class American home by an injury incurred on the front steps, makes life miserable for the Ernest W. Stanleys—Dad (John McNichols), Mom (Margo Webster), their teen-age daughter June (Donna Harris), and their picture-taking son Richard (Jim Harrison). Aiding both Whiteside and romance was his secretary, Maggie Cutler (Coleen Newgard), and her newspaper-reporter boyfriend, Bert Jefferson (Dan Terheggen).

The highlights of the play, however, are when Whiteside's endless line of nutty friends and associates begin to arrive on the scene. To name a few: international actress and jet-setter, Lorraine Sheldon, curvaciously portrayed by Vicki Carver; egotistical super-star Beverly Carlton, played by Tony Arn; practical-joker and Hollywood playboy "Banjo", played by Alex Bocast; Paul Chitwood as Professor Metz, bringing laughter and cock-ROACHes to the Stanley home; plus convicts, choir boys, and many others.

The play was also punctuated by some great comic scenes and characterizations. Tony Arn will long be remembered for his poignant rendition of "What Am I to Do?" while caressing a grand piano, and Dan Terheggen for his drunken spree in Lorraine's mink. Ralph Christiana and Madeline Hickey drew gigantic rounds of applause for their bumbling comedy; and Janet Luke's sweetly homicidal portrayal of Harriet Stanley, the quiet ax-murderess, brought down the house after all three performances.

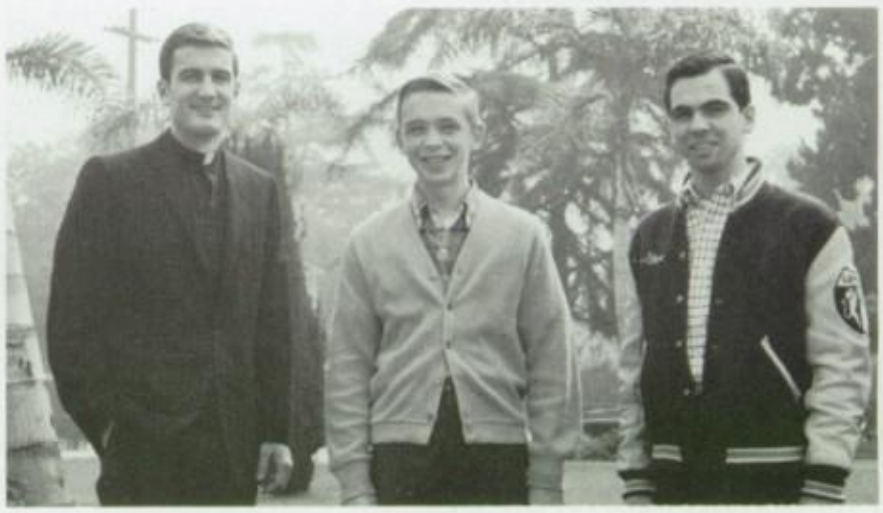
Speech

Under the able guidance of Mr. Fabing, S.J., and Mr. Sinski, S.J., the Loyola High Speech Team has moved from a position of mere adequacy to near excellence in the short space of a year.

Long hours of practice debating around the Venice Campus has resulted in our team's top debaters Paul Chitwood and Steve Mattichionne, and Dennis Winston and Mike Tramontine being placed in the top 21% and 14% of the nation's debaters, respectively.

Throughout its varied activities, though, the Speech Team has not forgotten its original premise of making our men good articulate speakers, ready to go out and face the world.



Assistant Moderator Mr. Sinski, S.J., stands with Paul Chitwood and Steve Mattachione who placed 11th among the nation's finest debaters in the National Invitational Tournament in New York.

Dennis Winston and Mike Tramontin, senior debaters, depart for Washington D.C., where they placed 26th out of 157 of the nation's top debaters.

Presumably president Mike Klein is somehow involved in thwarting the club's goals, for the only French which he fluently understands is "l'amour". They sang to hospitalized children at Christmas with the girls from Immaculate Heart and they partied in Newport 'til the wee hours of the morning with the Ramona Convent "jeune filles". Located behind Loyola High is a structure commonly referred to as "the old B.Q." It is a place of affection and scorn - both to those that are sentenced, or assigned to it as prefects, and those loveable guys from Beverly Hills to Thailand, the Boarders' Quarters Good Guys.

No, King Kong isn't head prefect; and the head of boarding was not brought up in a Chinese concentration camp. It is the sta..iping ground for a maze of ideas-from burning draft cards to burning the school. No matter how you look at it, there's no place like home away from home.

The Loyola High Cubs opened their fifth year under the guidance of Mr. Mario DiMuro by dropping their second straight opening game defeat to the Centennial Apaches. The spirited defense was unable to contend with the quick Apache defense and Centennial drew away winning 34-6.

Still looking for their first victory of the year, the Cubs of Loyola travelled to Santa Ana to challenge the Mater Dei Monarchs, the team ranked number one in the C.I.F. After being dominated in the first half, the Cubs bounced back and controlled the game after the intermission. Led by Junior tailback Tom Swartz, Loyola tied the game; but the Cubs were denied victory when Guy Gaumont's desperation field goal fell a few yards short.

In the third game of the year, Loyola found the sweetness of the victory circle against La Canada. The Cubs displayed a powerful ground attack as the line opened gaping holes for the backs who easily darted through. Tom Swartz scored four touchdowns and gained almost 300 yards. With the practice games completed with a 1-1-1 record, Loyola prepared for Catholic League play.

Loyola opened Catholic League play against Saint Anthony with key players in sub par physical condition. When the game was finished Saint Anthony had thrashed the Cubs, who had not lost an opening league game in nine years. The Cubs were never in contention as the Saints moved at will through the defensive unit and the offense could not generate a consistent attack.

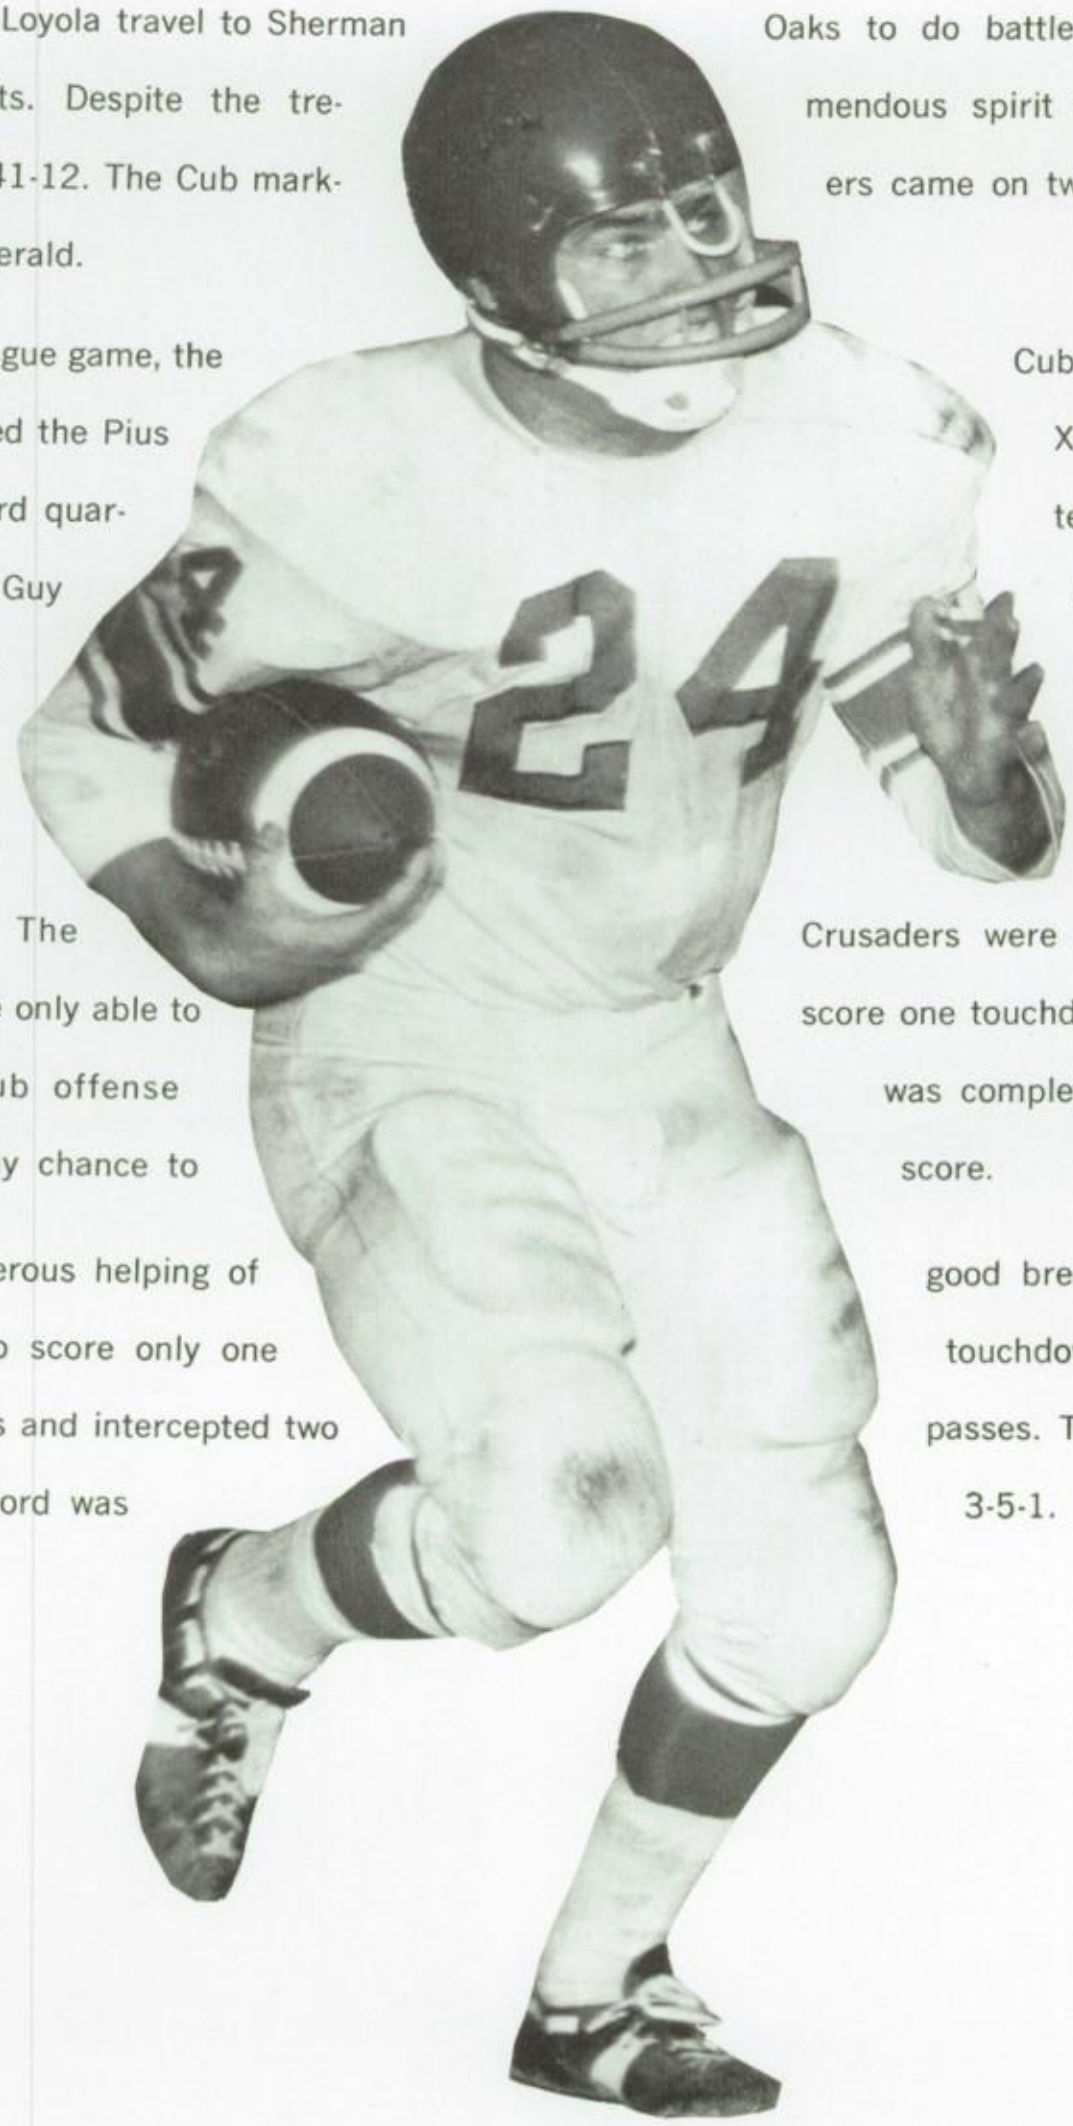
Another of the starring Juniors was Joe Muto who specialized in daring punt returns.

The Cubs lost their second straight game to a League opponent by losing to Serra 13-6. The Cubs were pushed around by the persistent aerial attack of the Cavaliers. The Cubs touchdown came on a 32 yard pass from Gaumont to Barry Preislor.

The next game saw Loyola travel to Sherman Oaks to do battle with the undefeated Notre Dame Knights. Despite the tremendous spirit of the entire student body, the Cubs fell 41-12. The Cub markers came on two long scoring bombs to Preislor and Fitzgerald.



Not having won a League game, the Cubs were in an angry mood when they faced the Pius X warriors. The Cubs played a brilliant third quarter as they explored for 21 points. Tailback Guy Gaumont was brilliant averaging ten yards per carry including an 88 yard touchdown gallop.

With their hopes high Loyola met the Mt. Carmel Crusaders. The Crusaders were able to drive on the defense but they were only able to score one touchdown. This was enough however, as the Cub offense was completely stifled and a killing fumble ruined any chance to score.

The Cubs had a generous helping of good breaks in this one game but still were able to score only one touchdown. The alert defense recovered five fumbles and intercepted two passes. The Cubs won 7-0 and their final season record was 3-5-1.

Cross Country

Under the instruction of Father Duggan, S.J., and Mr. Mihaly Igloi, Loyola's Cross Country team had a victorious season, with all three teams achieving winning records.

The Varsity, after suffering two defeats early in the league season, won four straight to capture 3rd place in the Catholic League. In the League finals, led by Mark Morris, Dennis Murphy, and Jim Dumas, the Cubs duplicated their season showing, finishing third behind Cathedral and St. Anthony. Morris was a medalist with a sixth place finish.

The J.V.'s (4-2) and the Bees (6-0) also fared well this year. With Doug Barron and Andy Thorpe leading the way, the J.V. team ended the season high up in the C.L. race. The undefeated Bees, headed by Kevin Kitrelle and Kevin O'Neil, were proclaimed league champions.

A special note of thanks should be extended here to Mr. Igloi for his tremendous help during the year. He is one of the world's truly great track coaches, and Loyola was indeed fortunate to have a man of his caliber assisting the team.

Varsity Basketball 68

At the beginning of the season, things looked bad for the basketball Cubs. No member of the team had gained any real experience in last year's season and only five seniors were returning. Coach Bill Sanchez knew that he had his work cut out for him. But with patience and determination he molded his short crew into a well-knit, well-disciplined ball club. This was the first time that he had no super-star to carry the load. Teamwork was the only way the Cubs would win.

The Cub start was very slow. They lost four of their first six pre-season games. But then the seniors - Ragsdale, Hayes, Doherty, Samaniego - gave the team the leadership it needed and the Cubs ended their pre-season with four straight convincing wins.

CUBS 75 - CATHEDRAL 70

The Cubs entered league with a four game winning streak to meet the Cathedral Phantoms. The Cubs, led by the shooting of Scherbert and O'Mara and the ball handling of Samaniego, broke to a 14 point halftime lead. Cathedral did not give up. They took advantage of a Cub shooting lapse and took the lead. The Cubs, down four with two minutes left, tied the score at 70. In the over time Samaniego scored the deciding points.

CUBS 54 - NOTRE DAME 50

The Cubs were confident of victory despite being the underdogs. Defense and boards were the name of this game. Clutch shooting kept the score tied till 12 seconds were left. A N.D. sub missed a foul freethrow and O'Mara was fouled getting the rebound. He sank both free throws. Heiserman added two more, and the Cubs pulled it out of the clutch.

CUBS 69 - PIUS X 66

Defense was the key to the previous Cub victories and this game was no exception. Samaniego's ball hawking and handling opened the door for the hot guns: Scherbert, O'Mara, Ragsdale, Hayes, and Heiserman. Their good shooting and the defensive job done on Addio and Sawyer gave the Cubs undisputed first place.

ST. ANTHONY 44 - CUBS 46

The Cubs, plagued by the flu bug, did not play their usual game. They were lax on defense and turned the ball over too many times. The loss put the Cubs in a four-way tie for first.

MT. CARMEL 72 - CUBS 46

In Carmel's own gym, the Cubs were given their worst league thrashing in years. Lack of boards and zip cost the Cubs dearly. They could not find the range in the second half, after trailing only 23-20 at the half.

CUBS 60 - SIERRA 54

This was a must game if the Cubs were to remain in contention. The Cubs played well enough to win, and that was the only good thing that could be said about the game. Good balance won it for the Cubs: Samaniego was high with 18, Scherbart and Heiserman each got 14, O'Mara picked up 10, and Rags ended up with 6.

CUBS 48 - CATHEDRAL 46

A winless Phantom team came to Loyola sniffing victory and upset. The Cubs did not relax because of Cathedral's 0-6 record, however, and both teams played a tenacious defense. The teams traded buckets throughout the game. With a minute remaining and the Cubs up by two, Mr. Sanchez decided to use the stall. It drove the Phantoms into their biggest mistake. They doubled on Samaniego, who in turn hit Scherbart underneath for the deciding point.

NOTRE DAME 74 - CUBS 60

This game was to decide the probable league champs. Both teams were tense, but the Knights broke out of it before the Cubs did. A hot second quarter opened the door of victory for the Knights. A last minute Loyola rally and Scherbart's 27 points were not enough.

CUBS 55 - PIUS X 50

A last-minute starter, Pat Doherty, was to prove the deciding factor in this crucial game. Not only did he score 17 points and take charge of the boards, but he also held Gary Addio, last year's most valuable player, to five points. His great performance coupled with the overpowering stalling tactics of seniors Ragsdale and Samaniego kept the Cubs in playoff contention.

ST. ANTHONY 57 - CUBS 54

Both teams were eyeing the playoffs, and their performance showed this. Throughout the entire game, neither team had more than an eight point lead. Jim Ragsdale kept the Cubs in the game until he fouled out. Then St. Anthony's proved to Loyola that the team that hits its freethrows usually wins.

MT. CARMEL 47 - CUBS 46

The Cubs knew that their chances for the playoffs were slim, but they still had hope. The Cubs started slow and were down 5-2 when senior Ed Samaniego came off the bench to spark the Cubs to the half-time lead. His overall floor game and Loyola's tough defense kept the Cubs ahead until the last minute. Costly turnovers and fouls gave the undeserving Crusaders a shot at the playoffs. Carmel's coach Phil Faist later said, "It is sometimes better to be lucky than good."

SERRA 72 - CUBS 68

The Cubs had only their pride left. They had never lost to Serra in basketball. Seniors Doherty, Hayes, Ragsdale and Samaniego fastbroke and shot the Cubs into a 13 point halftime lead. However the Cavaliers did not give up hope.Theyfound leaks in the Cub defense, and they took advantage of every mistake. Sheer hustle gave them their lone victory in its 18 year history. But even in losing the Cubs had something to be proud of. Despite somewhat empty homestands, they were still able to turn in a winning season.

Loyola's 1968 competition swimming team evaporated the lanes this season, leaving the opposition frothing in the wake of our speedy swimmers. Loyola went undefeated in a string of ten dual meets and topped this by breaking six school records. Freshman Jim Jeffs, Juniors Bob Hayes and Dave Oyster, and Seniors Jim Henneberry, Dan Terheggen, and captain Pete Warden led the team throughout the year, with brothers Pete and Kevin Warden placing first and second respectively in the diving events for seven of the ten meets.

Coach Ray Gubser, who switched from JV Basketball only last year, deserves congratulations for his excellent job in forming our Loyola swimmers into the best Swim Team ever to splash water in the history of Loyola High.

Top swimmers on the JV squad include Kevin Griffin, Bill Bantel, Phil Doi, Bill Richards, and Mark Worden. Worden consistently turned in varsity times for the 40 yd. freestyle. Freshmen Jon Scherbart and Richard Armstrong headed the C Team.

Bill Luecke, Chris Dutra, Steve Montgomery, Mike Piraino, Steve Valle, Tim Imirie. Absent: Lee Blackman, Garth Casper, Jim Schuck.

Golf

Under the able coaching of Fr. Griffin, S.J., Loyola's '68 Golf Team has once again been excellent. Such players as Casper, Imirie, and Schuck led the team through the season. Sophomore Steve Valle also showed great promise and should do very well in next year's competition.

BASEBALL

Led by coach Mario DiMuro, the Loyola Nine turned in a good year. Though they started off slowly, the Cubs were in there when it really counted.

The Pitching Staff was superbly led by all-leaguer Brian "no-hit" Green, John O'Connor, Guy Gaumont, and Stu Taylor. Backing them up in the bullpen were Dan Bergamo, Don Mysorski, and Chris Raftery. The catching chores were performed excellently by two great juniors-Bill Agopian and Tony Prada. The quick and agile infield was composed of Phil Angel, Tony Clougherty, all-league Mike Gogan, and Don Slaughter. Contributing most with their bats were Gaumont, Gogan, Angel, Cloughtery, and sophomore phenoms Bill Corr and Rod Volk.

Varsity Baseball 68

The JV Baseball team, coached by Mr. McCambridge and comprised mostly of newcomers, pulled together early in the season to become a good hitting and defensive club.

Pitching chores were done by Joe Krier, Eric Raya, and Tom Suhr. The catching was done by Tim Wheeler. The infield was guarded by Jim Kvasnika, Jim Raftery, Bob Kahle, and John Pavacik. The outfielders were led by Joe Collins, Mike English, and John Rock.

JV's

Top Row: S. Kristovich, T. Wheeler, J. Collins, R. Kahle, T. Reh, S. Grady, J. Hankey, J. Koasnika, Coach T. McCambridge. Bottom Row: M. Hoffman, J. Della Grotta, M. English, T. Suhr, J. Pavacick, J. Raftery, E. Raya. Absent S. Kristovich.
